Talkabout

Mowbeck

How can I fix you, if you don't want to fix yourself.
And how can he miss you, if he sleeps with someone else.

I've seen him out and about. Chess pieces scattered around.
Things you don't want to say. And he swears he behaves. And I've seen him pulling you back. Drown out that voice in your head.
I think you're losing control.

We've got something to talk about. You've got something to think about. There's some things you can live without. We've got something to talk about. And it's you.

How can he love you, if he only loves himself. And tell me why let him kiss you if he chases someone else.

I've seen him out and about. Chess pieces scattered around. Things you don't want to say, but he swears he behaves. And I've seen him pulling you back. Drown out that voice in your head. Oh did you bruise from the fall.

We've got something to talk about. You've got something to think about. There's some things you can live without. We've got something to talk about. And it's you.

How many times must a man fall down.
Before he's out of luck.
How many times must a man fall down.
Before he loses his mind.

We've got something to talk about.
I wish you could just hear me out.

We've got something to talk about. You've got something to think about. There's some things you could live without. We've got something to talk about. And it's you.

Lyrics Submitted by Ellie Alaisha

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/