Nerdy

Busted

It's always been up to your friends
They'll make your mind up for you
The popularity's gone to your head
Plus then I don't ignore you
You went for school election
You even got my vote and did you know
My favorite pastime's poetry
And yesterday I wrote
Just because I'm nerdy and my friends are thirty
It doesn't mean that I swing that way
You've got complications and a reputation
Wouldn't wanna get in your way, oh anyway
This morning you walked past my door
Just like a daydream but much more
I followed you round to the store
And I was shell-shocked when I saw
You and your friends were smoking
It always switch me choke and did you know
I'd do anything to have you, but
I wouldn't take a toke
Hey, just because I'm nerdy and my friends are thirty
It doesn't mean that I swing that way
You've got complications and a reputation
Wouldn't wanna get in your way, oh anyway
Anyway yeah, anyway yeah
You said my words were beautiful
They almost made you cry
The markings on the wall were jaded, I wonder why
1, 2, 3, 4, just because you're nerdy and your friends are thirty
Doesn't mean she won't swing your way
She's got complications and a reputation
Go ahead and stand in her way
Just because you're nerdy and your friends are thirty
Doesn't mean she won't swing your way
And she's got complications and a reputation
Go ahead and stand in her way, but anyway
Anyway, anyway yeah
