Shine

Clay Aiken

You can try to hide away from every drop of rain
That's hangin' over you
And you can say it's all a waste, lost your time and space
There's nothin' left to lose
And like a broken angel on the ground
Like a symphony without a sound
Turn around
Everything you are, everywhere you've been
Sinner and the saint that fight the battle within Everyplace you go, everybody knows
Shadows fall across the sun sometimes shine
You're gonna shine
In the mirror of your soul
I know that you know you are not forsaken
Hey, butterfly open up your weary eyes
And realize it's a trip we're takin'
And the world will turn around again
And your shattered heart is gonna to mend
In the end
Everything you are, everywhere you've been
Sinner, and the saint that fight the battle within
Everyplace you go, everybody knows
Shadows fall across the sun sometimes shine
You're gonna shine
Baby, let's go ridin' those shootin' stars
Watch the crescent moon smile to your heart
Shine, you're gonna shine
Shine, you're gonna shine
Everything you are, everywhere you've been
Sinner and the saint that fight the battle within Everyplace you go, everybody knows
Shadows fall across the sun sometimes shine
Everything you are, everywhere you've been
Sinner and the saint that fight the battle within
Everyplace you go, everybody knows
Shadows fall across the sun sometimes shine
You're gonna shine

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/