Year of the Phoenix

Pyramaze

The time has come, the stars aligned
It's meant to be, I see the signs
Out of the ashes, of beauty and power
A new beginning, this is the hourThirsty souls bound by the silence
Shall be reborn by their own story
And when the voices have risen
We will seal this pact of resurrecting gloryThis is the year of the phoenix
Let all legends come to life
Turn the silence into thunder
Believe in one more wonderOut of the old let the new arise
Forged in fire stronger than demiseAnother season has come and gone
There will be another one
With true intents we march forever
Always striving to be betterWithin the elusive dreamer
Slumbers a beauty almost pale
Now awakened and renewed
Creating another haunting taleThis is the year of the phoenix
Let all legends come to life
Turn the silence into thunder
Believe in one more wonder
