So Mysterious

Common Children

Faded flowers in her room
As black as night without a moon
But she glows like a city in the night
She lives for the beauty in this lifeShe's so mysterious
She's a riddle unraveling
And she keeps me curious
When she talks about her dreamsShe can be so serious
Between love and poverty
Yeah, she's all of this
And she's everything to meShe lets the rain drip on her skin
Underneath the thunder in the wind
She says love is louder than the sky
And she knows faith is stronger than the nightShe's so mysterious
She's a riddle unraveling
And she keeps me curious
When she talks about her dreamsShe can be so serious
Between love and poverty
Yeah, she's all of this
And she's everything to meAnd she's so mysterious
She's a riddle unraveling
And she keeps me curious
When she talks about her dreamsShe can be so serious
Between love and poverty
Yeah, she's all of this
And she's everything to meShe's all of this
And she's everything to me
Yeah, she's all of this
And she's everything to me
