

The Gray Race

Bad Religion

The framework of the world is, black and white
The infrastructure builders, flex their might Turning true emotion into digital expression
One by one, we all fall down The gray race shrivels trapped inside
The world it creates it's black and white
The gray race shrivels trapped inside
The world it creates it's black and white The perpetual destructive motion machine
Began to chart a course never before seen
Turning raw compassion into fields of plus and minus
One by one, we all give in The gray race shrivels trapped inside
The world it creates is black and white
The gray race shrivels trapped inside
The world it creates is black and white

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>