Dreamers

Si Kahn

For Heather Booth and Steve Max

When all that we work for
Seems so far away
When those that we count on
Have nothing to say
When good friends are troubled
With no place to turn
We look to the dreamers
To teach and to learn

And we honor the dreamers
We honor the dreamers
We honor the dreamers
Who work for our dreams

For it is the dreamers
Who bring the good fight
Who look to a future
Far beyond human sight
Who still find the courage
To stand all alone
Who help us find visions
And dreams of our own

And we honor the dreamers
We honor the dreamers
We honor the dreamers
Who work for our dreams

Far in the future
When hard time have passed
When we can reach out
And touch freedom at last
Though names are forgotten
Though voices are stilled
Will live in this world

And we honor the dreamers
We honor the dreamers

We honor the dreamers
Who work for our dreams
