New Earth

Landon Liboiron

Hey new earth, what is going on?
You take my time before the future can come
I donâ€™t mind the taste, itâ€™s the smell that I donâ€™t like
Take a brand new sail towards the blinding light

Motherâ€™s innocent child
A boy lost out in the wild
Man from the moon says everyone soon will have something to be proud about

Hey new earth, what is going on?
You take my love before I have had enough
And I donâ€™t mind the place, itâ€™s goodbyes that I donâ€™t like
Take a brand new sail towards a fascinating life

Motherâ€™s innocent child
A boy lost out in the wild
Man from the moon says everyone soon will have something to be proud about

Hey new earth, what is going on?
You take my life before I can give it up
And I donâ€™t mind the place, itâ€™s the weight that I donâ€™t like
Take a brand new sail towards the rest of your life

Motherâ€™s innocent child
A boy lost out in the wild
Man from the moon says everyone soon will have something to be proud about
