Control The Flame

The Lightning Seeds

Just give me more than I could ever wish for
Give me more than I could ever hope to take in one day, OK
There's always someone who can make me shiver
There's always someone who can melt the feel of iceOn my spine, in the night
Can't control
Control the flame
But who the hell'd want to calm this feverCan't control
Control desire
But who the hell'd want to stop it now
I hear the thunder and my mind can't reasonGoing under as it dances on my spine
Hold me tight, hold me tight
There must be someone who could kill this fever
But now and then I feel this fever rise and rise
