Don't Let Me Let You Go

Jamie Lawson

I know I make mistakes and I can let you down don't always find the words to say for all this searching you're the best thing that I've found I'll be hoping you stayBefore you let me throw this all away before you let me say all the stupid things I'll sayTake these arms and let them hold you tight love you more than love could ever know
I may fuck things up from time to time, but Don't let me let you go
Don't let me let you goI may get jealous and a little insecure
I may get drunk and let love bleed but it's hard to believe that beauty like yours could fall for something like meTake these arms and let them hold you tight love you more than love could ever know
I may fuck things up from time to time, but
Don't let me let you go
Don't let me let you goI'll do my best to learn from these mistakes
I may fail but I will always try I will tell you every single day I can I'll stay right by your side Staying right by your sideTake these arms and let them hold you tight love you more than love could ever know
I may fuck things up from time to time, but Don't let me let you goTake these arms and let them hold you tight love you more than love could ever know
I may fuck things up from time to time, but Don't let me let you goDon't ever let me let you go
