

When You See My Blood

Kathryn Calder

Dig in, my confidence was built to break
I wait until I don't notice it's gone
Lie still, I'm wishing on a comet tail
Lie still, and see right through me now
Like claws, the crawling of the waves
In thirst, the drying of the ground
Like claws, like claws, the breaking waves will crawl
Never the same but they still call me by name
When you see my blood
When you see my blood
It seems you've always been my weakest point
That's alright, I don't notice I'm gone
Dig in, we never let them have a chance
Before the grass could dry we brought a storm
Like claws, the crawling of the waves
In thirst, the drying of the ground
Like claws, like claws, the breaking waves will crawl
It's all the same as long as you're around
When you see my blood
When you see my blood
I have never seen a view so, I have never seen a view so furious in its rolling gale
I have never seen a view so, I have never seen a view so wide across that it's hardly there
I have never seen a view so, I have never seen a
view so furious in its rolling gale
I have never seen a view so, I have never seen a view, such wilderness in the open air
