Need to Let Go

Jonah33

It comes in like a flood
And shoves off just the same
Never a warning
With no one to blameAnd not even time can offer a remedy
Like a knife through my heart
A kiss to my face
Is your memoryThen I saw a face
And I swear it was you
And I miss you so muchHey can you hear me?
I need you to know
That if its all right with you
I just need to let goCause time waits for no one
And life carries on
And Ill never forget you
I just need to let go
I just need to let goAnd youll never find mercy
In the cycle of life
You cant bend the rules
Cause everyone diesWhen my boy looks at me
Like I looked at you
Ill be king of the world
If he loves me half as much as I loved youThen I saw a face
And I swear it was you
And I miss you so muchHey can you hear me?
I need you to know
That if its all right with you
I just need to let goCause time waits for no one
And life carries on
And Ill never forget you
I just need to let go
I just need to let goHey can you hear me?
I need you to know
That if its all right with you
I just need to let goCause time waits for no one
And life carries on
And Ill never forget you
I just need to let go
I just need to let go
