

Need to Let Go

Jonah33

It comes in like a flood
And shoves off just the same
Never a warning
With no one to blame And not even time can offer a remedy
Like a knife through my heart
A kiss to my face
Is your memory Then I saw a face
And I swear it was you
And I miss you so much Hey can you hear me?
I need you to know
That if its all right with you
I just need to let go Cause time waits for no one
And life carries on
And Ill never forget you
I just need to let go
I just need to let go And youll never find mercy
In the cycle of life
You cant bend the rules
Cause everyone dies When my boy looks at me
Like I looked at you
Ill be king of the world
If he loves me half as much as I loved you Then I saw a face
And I swear it was you
And I miss you so much Hey can you hear me?
I need you to know
That if its all right with you
I just need to let go Cause time waits for no one
And life carries on
And Ill never forget you
I just need to let go
I just need to let go Hey can you hear me?
I need you to know
That if its all right with you
I just need to let go Cause time waits for no one
And life carries on
And Ill never forget you
I just need to let go
I just need to let go
