

Told You So

Paramore

For all I know
The best is over and the worst is yet to come
Is it enough
To keep on hoping when the rest have given up
And they go I hate to say I told you so
But they love to say they told me so
I hate to say I told you so
They love to say they told me Say they say they told me
Say they say they told me
You say, you say you told me I know you like
When I admit that I was wrong and you were right
At least I try
To keep my cool when I'm thrown into a fire
And they go
I hate to say I told you so
But they love to say they told me so
I hate to say I told you so
They love to say they told me Say they say they told me
Say they say they told me
You say, you say you told me Throw me into the fire
Throw me and pull me out again
Throw me into the fire
Throw me and pull me out again
Throw me into the fire
Throw me and pull me out again
Throw me into the fire
Throw me and pull me out again
Throw me into the fire
Throw me and pull me out again
Throw me into the fire
Throw me and pull me out again
I hate to say I told you so
But they love to say they told me so
I hate to say I told you so
They love to say they told me Say they say they told me
Say they say they told me
You say, you say you told me
