Little Pixie

Imelda May

Is she enchanted with the spell
That babies know and use so well
The inner star, a light, a glow
That draws you in and makes you know
That she never fails, yet never tries
To put the smile in your eyesHer tiny hands, her little wrists
she'll clench your finger with her fist
Then grab your heart and steal that too
For that's what little pixies do
She never fails, yet never tries
To put the smile in your eyesHer tiny hands, her little wrists
she'll clench your finger with her fist
Then grab your heart and steal that too
For that's what little pixies do
She never fails, yet never tries
To put the smile in your eyesYeah, she never tries, yet never fails
To Sit on the rainbow's tail
