

Awake

Ian

So desperate
Hoping for acceptance from People who were meant to love
But don't, they say it's not appreciated
To see what you've chosen
To become Eyes, eyes, eyes
Just watching you
Waiting, seconds till you fall apart
Then it's over for you
No chances, no chances, none at all Their minds seem open
Yet, not exposed
They'll let you in
But not too close You'll never know
The obstacles
The certain things that you have no control over Don't let them see
Don't let them know (6x) That you're awake You see everything through those eyes
You understand, but they don't you're awake Spit out the rust
Strip the disguise
Don't think twice, no need to agonize
A tooth or two if not, gold will grow, gold will grow
Remember that your mama told you so Step out from the shadow
Let everyone see
Black & blue, it don't matter
You're free
The fight's over, you've won
Raise your bloody fists high,
Breathe
You didn't die You're still here, you're still here
Open your eyes
You're awakeâ€f
