

Settled Down

Mandolin Orange

These excuses, are useless
We've run around again
Another day, in the gutter
Make one for every year we spent together
My baby use to sing all night
Now she's sound asleep
She settled down, with a rambling man and found a gentle side of me
Make time, and take time
Maybe I'm no good
Cause I have showed her, these lines
Long enough to know now
That I should my baby use to sing all night
Now she's sound asleep
She settled down, with a rambling man a found a gentle side of me
Moments, just fleeting times
With little wings of gold
Remind us, how will we find true love, and every sign
Of getting old my baby use to sing all night
Now she's sound asleep
She settled down, with a rambling man and found a gentle side of me
