Lost In the Trees

Follow your shadow down to the ocean
And get swept up by the sea
You are weeping
You are weeping
All that Ive done to you was once done to meSuch a wicked, wicked roaming Round in your memories
And all your words can try your words can try but there are things that words cant sayI watch you fall away
Fall away
As you cower under our gravesI swear I saw her in her golden armor Float up around the house.
Oh so glorious
Oh so glorious
She came down and put her song into my mouthHer voice lights up the darkest staircase
Im home when youre aroundAnd my song will try
My songs can try
But there are things that songs cant saySo watch me fall away
Fall away
As I cower under your gravesAm I hopeless?
Am I hopeless? I trust you
But where are we walking to?
