Things Happen All the Time

Gob

one day i went out my door two men grabbed 'em by the throat mixed up with another guy couldn't fight they were way too strong beat me down threw me in the trunk what the fuck is going on?
why do things like this happen all the time?
they took a left, then a right, hit a bump, the other day, walking down the street four men carrying bags of cash ran me down and then they lost a bag and i was happy until the cops showed up.
