

All In

Better Than Ezra

All in, all in, you got me all in
Crank the music up, let it never end
All in, all in, you got me all in
'Til the sun come up and we start again Lucy likes Peter, Peter likes Paul
She caught 'em making out in the cubicle
She ran and told her girlfriend to cause a bit of fuss
Then she took another hit on the pixie dust All in, all in, you got me all in
Crank the music up, let it never end
All in, all in, you got me all in
'Til the sun come up and we start again We're banging on the ceiling, we jumping on the floor
A very angry neighbor breaking down the door
Everyone is quiet as he begins to shout
But we say easy man we can work it out All in, all in, you got me all in
Crank the music up, let it never end
All in, all in, you got me all in
'Til the sun come up and we start again Are you having a good time?
I said are you having a good time?
Tell it to your mother The moral to the story, there isn't really one
The bottom of the line is to have a bit of fun All in, all in, you got me all in
Crank the music up, let it never end
All in, all in, you got me all in
'Til the sun come up and we start again Are you having a good time?
I said are you having a good time?
Tell it to your lover
Right mate, is that your mother? All in, all in, you got me all in
Crank the music up, let it never end
All in, all in, you got me all in
'Til the sun come up and we start again
'Til the sun come up and we start again
'Til the sun come up and we start again
'Til the sun come up and we start again
