

Save Me Tonight

Sonus

Watching you go by my window you are going out tonight, I hope he treats you right. Losing my mind I'm jealous pretending that it's me the one who is meant to be. It hurts to see you leaving with another, yeah stop my heart from breaking. I need you here with me. Save me tonight the lights are running I'll be waiting show me your sign, too sorry cause tonight its fading.
I know I am trying to convince you, don't fall in love until I kiss you
The sun is knocking up the door when I can see your shadow. Walking down every morning, haha.
I know you are seeing me stare it's hard to look away.
Ohh how can I make you notice all that you mean to me, when you don't even know my name. It hurts to see you falling for another, stop my heart from breaking I need you here with me. Save me tonight the lights are running I'll be waiting show me your sign, too sorry cause tonight it's fading
I know I am trying to convince you, don't fall in love until I kiss you the sun is knocking up the door... I close my eyes and dream you are running to my arms and everything is alright (is alright). Save me tonight the lights are running I'll be waiting, show me your sign too sorry cause tonight is fading, I know I am trying to convince you don't fall in love until I kiss you. The sun is knocking up the door... Save me tonight the lights are running I'll be waiting show me your sign too sorry cause tonight is fading, I know I am trying to convince you don't fall in love until I kiss you. The sun is knocking up the door when I can see your shadow.
