Bright Idea

Orson

Did somebody tell you what I couldn't tell you?

I hope they did, I hope they didn't

Well, I oughta regret it or should I forget it

Whatever this is, it feels electric You shot me a sweet look, gave me your yearbook

But told me to sign it, it was a signal

But I couldn't find the words

I just couldn't find the nerve as usualHere's my bright idea

I'll just disappear

I'll just fly away from hereAnd now you're in Hollywood, tight in my neighborhood

Things are really looking up for you

An army of managers and lots of pretty boys lining up

To read for youOh, I'm pretty sure that it was you

That I bumped into just the other day at the record store

But I still don't have a clue

I just couldn't talk to you as usualHere's my bright idea

I'll just disappear

Here's my bright idea

I'll just disappear

I'll just fly away from hereSo I come to your event

In my well rehearsed mystique

I show up an hour late

But I've been ready for a weekAnd you float into the hallway

Like some neon silohuette

I'm slowly losing oxygen

And my hands are soaking wetAll the cameras and reporters

Piling up on one another

Just to get a look at you

They all want an interviewThen I make my move

Push them out of my way

But I still just don't know what to sayHere's my bright idea

I'll just disappear

Here's my bright idea

I'll just disappear

I'll just fly away from hereHere's my bright idea

Here's my bright idea

Here's my bright

Here's my bright

Here's my bright idea
