Vision

Jason Manns

I see the way he looks at you through the crowd
I see you wanna take him somewhere
Where it's not so loud
And I see everyone else just disappear
And it's just you and him
With your silent speech so clear
And you're the only one he sees and you're the only one he needs
But you're the only one for me

I look into the room but all I see is you
You know I'm not complaining because
It's a beautiful vision

I look into the room but all I see is you
You know I'm not complaining because
It's a beautiful vision

One that I â€˜ve seen in my mind for so long
One that haunts me when you're gone and you're the only one I need and you're the only one I see and you're the only one for me
I look into the room, but all I see is you
I look into the room, but all I see is you
I look into the room, but all I see is you
You know I'm not complaining because
It's a beautiful vision
