Judgement Day

Carlene Carter

Stood by the window,
watch him walked away.
Saw the wind blow his hair
thru the tears of my eyes.No one had to tell me,
My heart know for certain.
But thru the lies and lines I've heard..
every spoken word, and in the cold hard truth.
I taste my bitter sweet waste of youth.Tomorrow I'm gonna get up, I'm gonna make me Shine.But tonight, I'm going to cry for what once was mine.
I hold on for dear life
'till it comes judgement day.
True love never dies..It just walks away.....JUDGEMENT DAYJUDGEMENT DAYThese memories surround me, but don't make a sound.
Like thieves in the night,
They come sneak'n around.Hear'm silently shouting,
'till I'm down on my knees.
So I'm going to lie on this floor,
In my black funeral dress and.....Grieve for the man who held my heart in his hands.Then tomorrow I'm going to get up and make me shine.
But tonight I'm going to cry for that hard hearted man.
No matter how hard I try, I could not live that way.
True love never dies, it just walks away....JUDGEMENT DAYJUDGEMENT DAYDown for the count,
Life took the breath out of me.
The more That I cared,
The more I just wanted to be free.So tonight I'm going to cry
for what once was mine.
I'll hold on for dear life,
til it comes... JUDGEMENT DAY....
True love never dies, It just walks away.....AWAYJUDGEMENT DAYAWAYJUDGEMENT DAYOHHH AWAYJUDGEMENT DAYOHHH AWAYJUDGEMENT DAY!

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/