Shed My Skin

Alter Bridge

I am not alone, I live with the memories
Regret is my home this is my true freedom
Express all the feelings of what I've become
I watch the rising sun, I hope I find some peace today
It seems I've gone away
It seems I've lost myself
It seems I've really lost my way
It seems I've lost myself
It seems I've
Shed my skin
Oh, are you ready for me?
Or purge my love
Oh, are you ready for me?
A bitter sinking feeling awake to the fact
There's no going back to this world in which I was living
I'm searching for something but found less than nothing
I watch the rising sun, I hope I find some peace today
It seems I've gone away
It seems I've lost myself
It seems I've really lost my way
It seems I've lost myself
It seems I've
Shed my skin
Oh, are you ready for me?
Or purge my love
Oh, are you ready for me?
Yeah, 'cause I'm dying to feel
What I have lost, oh, and what I was
All my life I've waited endless days have taken
Taken what made me free
Years have gone I'm broken left the past unspoken
Those years oh, they haunt me still
Shed my skin
Oh, are you ready for me?
Or purge my love
Oh, are you ready for me?
And shed my skin
All my life I've waited endless days have taken
What made me free

Years have gone I'm broken
Those years they haunt me still
