To the Limit

Tanya Stephens

Intro:
if experience teaches wisdon then how some guy a proclaim so much wisdom based entirely offa the fact weh dem proudly proclaim seh dem nuh experience nutten yet?
well you know me
born n do it, n do it well despite some cruff. weh mi seh

Verse1
Some people spend a lifetime n only experience politics and religion
Some people sieze every moment, others stay governed by indecision.
Some people live their lives like a victim resign to failure and dem refuse fi see that Just siddun an a complain bout di system, an nuh wah try nutten? no star, a nuh mi dat!

cho
I live my life like there's an engine revving in it:
push every minute to the limit
and i neva back down from challenge u a see me in it a push every minute to the limit now!
and if di ball nuh wah roll den mi affi fling it!
push every minute to the limit
an i nah siddung fi a next guy come begin it, push every minute to the limit now

Verse 2
Some people spend a fortune tryna live up to other people's expectations
Sacrifice their heart's desire to preserve superficial relation
Some people live their lives like a metaphor: clean a a whistle, NEAT! as a pin!
That's no the kinda vibe am looking for, affi try a likkle bit o almost everything! so

cho

Verse 3
and i love life too much fi nuh try a weh mi seh
mi still a do this all when mi fren dem a betray me like Judas dem think mi spineless so mia show dem a who dis
turn around an pity them because dem clueless mi tell dem dem cyaah touch nutten weh mi Father annoint an dem still nah get mi point

Cho x2
