The Barriers

Prong

This must be a dream
Can't believe this is happening
This can't be real
Now in defeat gonna have to kneel Reach out for a remedy, searching for transparency Barriers appeared
All built up right through the yearsTremble to think of what's in store Reflect upon, recall,
the memories and nightmares
I had to take another fall
Reflect upon my world,
look right through the dark
More shall be revealed Through thoroughly examining When you draw near You get all the fear from another ordeal Got to keep on channeling
all that keeps you challenging Do you have any idea, of how you get relief?To know, to clear
The barriers disappear
Decide, confide
Something will provide
Come close, draw near
The barriers disappear
Deny, misguide
Back to the start I slide Reflect upon, recall,
Reflect upon my world,
look right through the darkness
Tremble to think of what's in store
Reflect upon, recall,
the memories and nightmares
Reflect upon my world,
look right through the darknessTo know, to clear

The barriers disappear
Decide, confide
Something will provide
Come close, draw near
The barriers disappear
Deny, misguide
Back to the start I slideTremble to think what might befall
From wreckage to restored
From memories to nightmares
It's all a gift straight from above Reflect upon, withdraw Look right through the falseness
Reflect upon, recall,
the memories, the nightmares
Reflect upon my world,
Reflect upon my world,
