30 60 90

Oleander

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Hey, you can't complain about the sunshine
When you're feeling a flat line
And you're stuck in a lowHey, don't want to hear about the way you feel
When you're the only one to sign the deal
Your bed is made and you're lying in itI can't remember my name
Strung out and feelin' the blame
Somebody said that you can't deny it
You're too high againHey, you can't complain that you went to hard
Abused your body with no regard
And now you feel like shitHey, you'd like to think that nobody knows
You'd like to think that it never shows
You'd like to think that you got away with itI can't remember my name
Strung out and feelin' the blame
Somebody said that you can't deny it
You're too high againI can't remember my name
Strung out and feelin' the blame
Somebody said that you can't deny it
You're too high againYou're too high again
You're too high again
Somebody said that you can't deny it
You're too high againWhat's my name?
What's my name?
What's my name?
...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/