New Wall

Tori Forsyth

started with a man that's bigger than me piled up so high like you wouldn't believe you can find it in my head and in my poetry but you will never shake the words out of me tears like ice cold and still you've never seen them leave my eyes and you never will and i'll sink you a sad stone in the memory of everything i've felt but what you'll never see but despite everything about to fall i'll replace the broken bricks and i'll build a new wall i'll take a big hole and i'll fill it all in with every second guess that i'm havin' and maybe tomorrow i'll forget today i can't promise anything but i'll pretend anyway
but despite everything about to fall
