Valentine's Day

LINKIN PARK

My insides all turn to ash
So slow
And blow away as I collapsed
So coldA black wind took them away
From sight
And held the darkness over day
That nightAnd the clouds above move closer
Looking so dissatisfied
But the heartless wind kept blowing, blowingI used to be my own protection
But not now
'Cause my path has lost direction
SomehowA black wind took you away
From sight
And held the darkness over day
That nightAnd the clouds above move closer
Looking so dissatisfied
And the ground below grew colder
As they put you down inside
But the heartless wind kept blowing, blowingSo now you're gone
And I was wrong
I never knew what it was likeTo be alone on a Valentine's Day
On a Valentine's Day
On a Valentine's Day
On a Valentine's Day(On a Valentine's Day)
I used to be my own protection
(On a Valentine's Day)
But not now
(On a Valentine's Day)
'Cause my mind has lost direction
(On a Valentine's Day)
Somehow(On a Valentine's Day)
I used to be my own protection
(On a Valentine's Day)
But not now
(On a Valentine's Day)
'Cause my mind has lost direction
(On a Valentine's Day)
Somehow
