Don't You Know

Pulp

There's not much time for talking
All your friends are going to walk away
If there was time for talking
All too soon you'd be lost for things to say
Don't you know she could break you
Every bone that's inside of you?
Then again she might make you
Everything that you want her to
And if you could walk away
Where would you go anyway?
And if you've still got the chance
I know you, know you'll stay, stay
I don't need your excuses
Are you tired of trying to stay on top?
So just lie back and enjoy it
And save your tears for when the kissing stops
Oh, you know it's got to stop
Don't you know she could break you
Every bone that's inside of you?
Then again she might make you
Everything that you want her to
And if you could walk away
Where would you go anyway?
And if you've still got the chance
I know you, know you'll stay, stay
Oh, you'll stay, oh, you'll stay
Don't you know she could break you
Every bone that's inside of you?
Then again she might make you
Everything that you want her to
And if you could walk away
Where would you go anyway?
And if you've still got the chance
I know you, know you'll stay, stay
Oh, you'll stay, oh, you'll stay
Oh, you'll stay, oh, you'll stay
Oh, you'll stay, oh, you'll stay, oh, you'll stay

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/