

Digital (did You Tell)

Stone Sour

Oh, save us all again from a cynic's Armageddon.
When your mind didn't want to break, your rusty mouth consented.
I think you're all afraid -- Too afraid to admit pollution.
Now there's no easy way to avoid such a hard solution.Digital -- Did you tell the word today that we would say goodbye?
Digital -- Did you tell the word today that we would say goodbye?Here we go again with a brilliant overreaction.
My advice isn't going to change -- Dysfunction over fashion.
I think you're all ashamed -- Too ashamed to admit your faults.
No daylight in the bunker -- Just darkness in the vaults.Digital -- Did you tell the word today that we would say goodbye?
Digital -- Did you tell the word today that we would say goodbye?There's only one way out of this
But do we have the nerve to try?
'Cause there is no way out of this
If all our answers say goodbye.Goodbye -- There's only one way out of this
But do we have the nerve to try?
'Cause there is no way out of this
If all our answers say goodbye.Digital -- Did you tell the word today that we would say goodbye?
Digital -- Did you tell the word today that we would say goodbye?
Digital -- Did you tell the word today that we would say goodbye?
Digital -- Did you tell the word today that we would say goodbye?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>