Doing Fine

Chani Levy

Sorting thru the voices in my mind
I try to move but I can hardly find
Strength to pick me up from where I am
I'm here again and everything's the same

Same old struggles, showing up
I try so hard but it's not enough
I'm racing towards true finish line
But it takes time

Each day I get a little stronger
Each year I live a little longer
And each challenge shows me how music farther I've moved ahead
So when I stare at my reflection
I dare not pressure for perfection
It's one step at a time
Breathing in, I'm doing fine

Silently I sink Into myself
Get me out, but no ones there to help
I'm running out of patience,
Out of hope
I'm holding on, I need to know.

Hashem He counts the tears and sweat
And tho I may not be there yet
There's a welcome sign at every step
And I'm okay

Each day I get a little stronger
Each year I live a little longer
And each challenge shows me how music farther I've moved ahead
So when I stare at my reflection
I dare not pressure for perfection
It's one step at a time
Breathing in, I'm doing fine

Thank you for this melody divine
Clarity is often hard to find
Life's a journey

Life is not a race
And I need time to figure out my pace

Round and round it sure is tough
But it's a spiral and going up
Feel the raise with every rise
Stop, take pride!

Each day I get a little stronger
Each year I live a little longer
And each challenge shows me how music farther I've moved ahead
So when I stare at my reflection
I dare not pressure for perfection
It's one step at a time
I'm letting go and will be just fine

Believing that I'm doing fine....
