

Freaks of Nature

Kansas

Freak of nature, fact or fright
Puts up with pain, puts up with spite Scarred up shoes have lost their sheen
It looks like better days they've seen Chameleon man, naive tycoon
Eat the poor with silver spoon He'll jest and jeer through looking glass
But nest right near the upper class Who'll be the first one pointing at the simple man?
Now I know I'm only lucky Every freak of nature should know
How to run the whole freakin' show Freak of nature'd rather be no less a man than you or me
He'd rather look the other way, choose to fight another day I take things for granted, turn the tables 'round
What if I was down? Every freak of nature should know
How to run the whole freakin' show To much goin' on, runnin' out of time
I don't understand it
To much goin' on, runnin' out of time
I don't understand it Every freak of nature should know
How to run the whole freakin' show Every freak of nature should know
