Snapcase

think twice, take time and realign be careful of how youve misused your design ten times, ten times youve riskyed it all this time theres no one left to suffer your fall we are nothing, this is you alone we are nothing, this is you unlearn to learn to change your ways are you afraid of what your heroes would say believe and bleed your weaknesses this time, this time you have nowhere to defect you cover your scars with fresh blood restraint is the measure of true strength restraint is the measure of your fate
