Whispering Dandelions

Ingrid Chavez

Will you meet me?
-In a field of whispering Dandelions.

You are, you are
The most magical and fragile flower in the garden.
Fragile.
If I whispered ?I love you? you might get scared and fly away.
And Magical?
From the butterflies in my stomach and the way they play

Can?t say I?ve ever met anyone here before.
?Cuz you hold the key to the garden door.
?Think I wanna build a house here-
And paint it with our smile
?cuz heaven knows it?s my favourite colour
Of all in the emotional dial

Tell me,
Someday can we fly away?
I have a pocket full of places, and noone?s ever been there

Will you meet me?
-In a field of whispering Dandelions.

You are, you are
The most beautiful flower in the garden.
I think I?ve fallen, in a good way.
And as long as the sun shines I think I?ll stay.
No
I know I?ll stay
In the field of whispering Dandelions.

Will you meet me?
