

Stay Visible

Simple Minds

The road opens wide,
There's space here for two of us.
If I could slip under the wire
We'd wait here, just stay here a while. Slumped, my body's tired
And this fear never lets me sleep.
Your smile this trial elates,
In your eyes I see mothers open gates. If fortune could smile
There'd be room here for two of us
And I would burn myself through the wires.
With hate concentrated, unearthed, disparate, in time. Once in a while,
If peace held for two of us,
If we could show mercy awhile,
With patience transcending this cold never ending through time.

Songwriters

CHARLIE BURCHILL, JIM KERR, JEREMY COAD
Published by
Lyrics Â© BMG RIGHTS MANAGEMENT US, LLC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>