

Break The Silence

Delirious?

Citizens with a secret in our hands
That could ignite our shadow lands
Light it up and let it go Let it shine with love and grace and redesign
A ray of hope for the common man
Light it up and let it go Woah, we've gotta give it away
And there's a price to pay
When we give it away Break the silence, break the silence
Cross every boundary that divides us, divides us
Break the silence, break the silence
Cross every border that divides us, unite us
[Incomprehensible] We turn the page to a future just begun
If heaven is real then let our heaven become
Peace on earth, let it flow We raise our voice where the color's all but gone
Paint the world with redemption songs
Stir it up and let it flow Woah, we've gotta give it away
And there's a price to pay
When we give it away Break the silence, break the silence
Cross every boundary that divides us, divides us
Break the silence, break the silence
Cross every border that divides us, unite us Break the silence, break the silence
Cross every boundary that divides us, unite us We've gotta give it away
We've gotta give it away
We've gotta give it away, give it away So break the silence, break the silence
Break the silence, break the silence
Cross every border that divides us, unite us
