

Love Must Have Opened My Eyes

Denaë Joy

Who would have thought that along it was you.
Who would have dreamed you were my dream come true. Oh it's you.

When did it happen? When did I see you were the one God intended for me? When did I realize?
I guess love must have opened my eyes.

We were just kids having a whole lot of fun.
And we were just friends, but our story had just begun. Only begun.
Now look at us. Look where we stand. Pledging our love with our hearts and hands.
Somewhere along life's path. Our friendship has turned to romance.
