Off My Wall

Matt White

I'm sitting here all alone at night
I'm losing sleep all of the time
If I did it better would you stay this way
I'm drinking whiskey to stop all my pain
If I ever knew there was a girl like you
To break my heart and tear it in two
I'm sayin' please please don't you ever leave me this way
I'll catch you in the rise and fall
I know I'll be better off someday
Scared to take that picture off of my wallI believe we could've done so well
It's killing me girl you left me in hell
In every song I still see your face
And all those years they just went to waste
If I ever knew there was a girl like you
That broke my heart and ripped it in two
I'm sayin' please please don't you ever leave me this way
I'll catch you in the rise and fall
I know I'll be better off someday
I'm scared to take that picture off of my wallI said everything a thousand times
Was it really all that bad
And did you want me to lose my mind
Did that make you glad
'Cause it made me mad
I'm sayin' please please don't you ever leave me this way
I'll catch you in the rise and fall
I know I'll be better off someday
I'm scared to take that picture off of my wallPlease please don't you ever leave me this way
I know I'll catch you in the rise and fall
I know I'll be better off someday
I'm scared to take that picture off of my wall
