

Alpha Omega - The Bringer of Balance

Holy Terror

Hidden in the magic darkness befriended by the night
Lies the war torn ravaged victim treason complete a new order arrives
Pain the trouble drone infests ever-lasting night befalls revolt Damned to hell compulsion of the thief
Driven by greed tempered by force
Sweet evil tendencies the easy way out
Fallen soldiers bleeding thier sins
Fearing death the cowards tremble, all so afraid to fight
Laying down their earthly treasures, trading possessions for the light
Fighting back without fighting the blood on them it flows from us
The slaughtering of the lamb insures the lion to be Rising through the mist around me
Shacled to my vice
The stench of my own sins surround me
Deep inside I need to live
Feed the fires for now but remember
Deceived by the whore to evil the voices in my mind revolt
Telling me trust in nothing questions begin the answer
Believe in nothing the deceptions sure
Revealing that which has always been
Programmed but not forsaken listen not to the charlatan
Question all without regard an empty ringing breaks the silence
A voice upon the astral wind tears upon the trusting face
Turn away while you still can from the gaze of your temptation
Rebellion is upon our hands sacred bredding desecration
The deception's complete
