Fairchild

Willie West

Your eyes're soft and gentle but your heart is hard and cold
With the beauty of an angel and the devil in your soul
Your looks're so deceiving you're so lovely yet so wild
And I wish that I had never walked into your world fairchild
Your lips could well deceive the smartest man that ever lived
Before he learned that you just take and take and never give
And I was just a victim that was captured by your smile
What I thought would be heaven is hell on earth fairchild
You say you're gonna leave me now your love for me has died
Come let's talk it over as we take a little ride
And tell me all about the plans behind your evil smile
Maybe there's a chance that I might change your plans fairchild
Yes fairchild I realize I'm driving much too fast
But you've hurt me so many times but this will be your last
The morning news will tell of how they found us side by side
But it won't tell the truth about our accident fairchild
