

Straight Lines

Benny Sings

Let me break through these straight lines
Let me break through whatever is needed
Let me break through these straight lines
Let me break through whatever is needed Breathe in and breath out
'cause it's all inside my head
There's no need for mind..(?)
Black and white boxes
Just remember what she said
There's no logic in love Let me break through these straight lines
Let me break through whatever is needed
Let me break through these straight lines
Let me break through whatever is needed My delusion has it got me where we are
Time is running out my love, my love
Take me over(?)
There's a door inside my heart
You are the key
