That Would Be Her

Joe Nichols

Have you ever seen a river, ragin' in the spring
Rushin' down a mountain fast as anything
Well if you can picture that wild water
That would be her, only deeperHave you ever seen an eagle, soaring high above the trees
Circling the world below, the epitome of free
Well you could imagine how I feel when I'm beside her
Only higherI'm flying, I'm falling, I'm floating
And all I want to do is hold her
Closer and spend every day that passes
Thinkin' up new ways to love her moreIf you've never had a vision
Of what a perfect love would be
Just close your eyes and dream and dream
That just gets sweeter and that would be herI'm flying, I'm falling, I'm floating
And all I want to do is hold her
Closer and spend every day that passes
Thinkin' up new ways to love her moreIf you've never had a vision
Of what a perfect love would be
Just close your eyes and dream a dream
That just gets sweeter and that would be herJust close your eyes and dream a dream
That just gets sweeter, and that would be her
