

Fight The Youth

Fishbone

And now another story of stolen faith and tragic glory
They claim to be your friends but all the while they taunt you with lies
They tell you what to think and how to face the world around you
You never question what you know inside is lax and untrue But take a look around

We're not running anymore

We're in the positive

But we're ready for the war

For the war Fight the youth

The youth with poisoned minds

Ignite the truth

Restore sight to these blind

Fight the youth

The youth with poisoned minds

And if they suffer it's no fault but their own And every time I see the hatred that engulfs these children

It makes me wonder if the quest for peace will someday subside

I'm not afraid to wage the hopeless battles I must fight

For I could never lose, I know my cause shines in the light But take a look around

We're not hiding anymore

Your weapon's cowardice

And we won't take it anymore

Anymore Fight the youth

The youth with poisoned minds

Ignite the truth

Restore sight to these blind

Fight the youth

The youth with poisoned minds

And if they suffer it's no fault but their own Take a look around

We're not running anymore

We're in the positive

But we're ready for the war

For the war Fight the youth

The youth with poisoned minds

Ignite the truth

Restore sight to these blind

Fight the youth

The youth with poisoned minds

And if they suffer it's no fault but their own

Hey And all the feelings of a generation fed with anger

Make all the choices for a future where all nightmares come true

I choose to fight for youth, to fight for truth, to fight for justice
I choose to heal the wounds of sacrifice made by the children
