Stand At Your Window

Jim Reeves

Stand at your window some night
Again let me see
The one who is holding
The best part of me
Stand at your window some night
Look at my side of town
Remember if you change your mind
You know where I'll be found
Each night I look up at your mansion
I can see the window where the light shines through
I wonder if you still remember
The one that you left for someone new
Stand at your window some night
Again let me see
The one who is holding
The best part of me
Stand at your window some night

Look at my side of town
Remember if you change your mind
You know where I'll be found
Each night as I wait here in the darkness
I watch your window so high above
I'm longin' for a look at my old sweetheart
Just a glimpse the one that I still love
Stand at your window some night
Again let me see
The one who is holding
The best part of me
Stand at your window some night
Look at my side of town
Remember if you change your mind
You know where I'll be found

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/