March Of War

Nonpoint

This is a march of war
The last chance to settle the score
The battle lines well defined
A fight that we both fought beforeWhat do you want from me?
You couldn't give me what I need
I said this a thousand times before
Now watch me walk out the doorI'll never be the person you want me to be
What do you want from me?
What do you need from me?
I'll never see the reason that you always seem to see
What do you need from me?I'll never be the person you want me to be
What do you want from me?
What do you need from me?
I'll never be the person you want me to beThis is the march of war
A fight that we fought before
You can't make a square peg fit
In a hole filled with solid brickI've made up my mind
I'm leaving this time
It doesn't matter what you think anymore
I've already walked out the doorI'll never be the person you want me to be
What do you want from me?
What do you need from me?
I'll never see the reason that you always seem to see
What do you need from me?
I'll never be the person you want me to be
What do you want from me?
What do you need from me?
I'll never be the person you want me to be
