

Sunlight

The Mowgli's

Well, you can find me on a good day laughing 'till the sun comes up
Another California summer, whiskey in a plastic cup
But everybody is an actor, be hard to give it up
And now they're working at the bars making drinks for kids like us
Can you save me on your old man's porch, she's talking me up
Don't know what to say, I really doubt my fall, I don't know enough
Now, I've been waiting, but I'm so caught up in my own fuss
I need to be related but I feel so distant from everyone
We've been waiting our whole lives
Carried away with the hard times
I don't wanna wait for something right
Gotta get out, get out tonight
We're all waiting for the sunlight
I've been hanging out of my head, instead of getting wasted
And I've got more trouble about than you, I can taste it
Oh, look at the state I'm in, why am I complaining?
I should be taking on this wisdom
Giving it to everyone, every daughter, every son
We've been waiting our whole lives
Carried away with the hard times
I don't wanna wait for something right
Gotta get out, get out tonight
We're all waiting for the sunlight
We've been waiting our whole lives
Carried away with the hard times
I don't wanna wait for something right
Gotta get out, get out tonight
We're all waiting for the sunlight
We're all waiting for the sunlight
Don't wanna wait for something right
Gotta get out, get out tonight
We're all waiting for the sunlight
You can find me on a good day laughing 'till the sun comes up

Songwriters

DAVID NAFTALI APPELBAUM, COLIN DIEDEN, MATTHEW DAVID DIPANNI, KATHRYN JAYNE
EARL, SPENCER TRENT GONGWER, JOSHUA HOGAN , ANDREW I WARREN
Published by Lyrics © SONGS MUSIC PUBLISHING Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>