Now That It's Over

Building 429

I brace my heart for the relapse
I'm waiting now for the shame
I've been somewhere and I can't go back againI'm holding out for some mercy
I'm praying that you'll forgive
I've done something and I can't take it back again, yeahI'm sorry now, now that it's over
Your world crashed down and I ran for cover
I'm sorry now, now that it's overHow I wanted to show the way
So I pushed you aside
I wanted to save the day but let you cryAnd I stood there so silently
Watch the moments pass by
Too late to save the day, I let you dieI'm sorry now, now that it's over
Your world crashed down and I ran for cover
I'm sorry now'Cause we all want to lead but all we're falling behind
Everyone wants to save themselves
We all want to lead but we're falling behind
Everyone wants to save themselves, save yourselfI'm sorry now, now that it's over
Your world crashed down and I ran for cover
I'm sorry now, now that it's over, it's over
