

The End Is Coming

Sevendust

I see the last parade unfold
I try to understand the meaning of it all
If silence becomes us then who will save us from the fall
It's coming for us all, now try to run The end is coming so run, keep running
The end is coming, no more time to save ourselves
The end is coming, yeah, we became the enemy
The end is coming, your world is burning
The end is coming I see the cruel charade as bright as the sun
I try to find my faith but all it does is run away
If heaven refused us then who will listen to our call
When it all begins to fall, now try and run The end is coming so run, keep running
The end is coming, no more time to save ourselves
The end is coming, yeah, we became the enemy
The end is coming, your world is burning
The end is coming Divine security, divine security
Divine security, divine security So I keep running
There's no time to save ourselves, yeah babe
No more time to save ourselves The end is coming so run, keep running
The end is coming, no more time to save ourselves
The end is coming, yeah, we became the enemy
The end is coming, your world keeps burning away
The end is coming The end is coming, your world keeps burning away
The end is coming
The end is coming, your world is burning
The end is coming down
